Monthly Puzzler

A railway line has a double track, except in a tunnel where there was no room for a double track. A train goes into the tunnel in one direction, and another one enters in the opposite direction. Both trains are traveling fast. However, they do not crash. Why?

Answer on pg. 3

Submit your joke of the month, or puzzler of the month to one of the Courier Committee. See page 4.

Joke of the Month

This is a true story:
I have a friend who was doing temp work for a large corporation. She noticed a line of people standing near the copier machine. She went over to see if she could be of assistance. The workers were trying to figure out how to stop the machine from punching three holes down every sheet of paper. This was causing a major problem, and no one could get the machine to stop punching holes. How did my friend fix it?
